

dwell

AT HOME IN THE MODERN WORLD

12 Essential Tools for Your Garden

Murray Moss Explores Bed, Bath & Beyond

Floor Lamps Tested by Professional Reader

America's Coolest Neighborhood: Renegade Developer Reinvents Suburbia

Come Meet Your Neighbors!

$4.95 U.S. / $5.95 CANADA

www.dwellmag.com

dwell

scientists get paid to partition lettuce	79
evolution improves faucets and toilet tanks	80
Pukeberg is a nice place to visit	82
gardeners know their zones	84
lawns are made of glass	87
soft, sturdy green gloves are sold on the Web	90

Bodyshower Mobile
By Michel Perthu

At long last, a shower that collapses to be as portable as a hatbox—ideal for “small flats without a shower or bath.” A sturdy vinyl zipper releases the curtain for washing. Rough black circles make the floor non-slip. For the minimalist zealot (maximum weight 242 pounds), this compact appliance could make the traditional bathroom obsolete. A dual-tubed attachment to the sink faucet carries water up to the showerhead and back out to the sink's drain. It is well sealed to catch condensation, and emits minimal steam. Try using it on an airplane and see what happens. Available at www.bodyshower.dk.